Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 02 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A fine and dry start followed by showers for some.

Today:
A fine and dry start, but with some cloud building through the morning ahead of a band of showers, heavy and possibly thundery in places, arriving in the afternoon. Driest conditions north and east of the region. Feeling very warm. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud cover becoming more extensive as heavy showers continue to fall in places, again potentially thundery. Becoming dry for all by dawn, with skies beginning to clear too. Feeling warm. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Thursday:
Any cloud quick to clear in the morning to give another fine and dry day with plenty of sunshine. Feeling cooler than previous days, but still warm. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Fine and dry on Friday and Saturday, however feeling cooler than previous days, although still warm. Cloudier on Sunday with showers and the occasional sunny interval. Winds light throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.